Andriea Denise is a woman on a mission to inspire, to encourage, and to motivate others to live their best lives. Andriea is a singer, entrepreneur, author, speaker, and coach. She teaches men, women, and adolescents to choose to push passed their obstacles and become the people they desire to be so that they can live their dreams. Andriea believes that by focusing on self-improvement, a person can ultimately create a life he/she loves living! Andriea has succeeded in turning her creative passions into a profession, and now she is helping others to do the same.

Andriea Denise holds a BA that she earned from Indiana University, where she studied Creative Writing, Business Writing, Publishing, and Music. Andriea has been an educator and mentor for over 8 years. Andriea Denise is currently available for workshops, speaking engagements, panel discussions, and one-on-one coaching sessions.
